Sonja & Rebecca:

The slips are messed up (obviously). Sorry.

[REDACTED] is scheduled for trial on 1/11/12. The correct numbers for [REDACTED] are [REDACTED].

[REDACTED] is scheduled for trial on 1/13/11 (I know this is a Friday. Defense counsel is stipulating to the drug cert; I sent out a slip just to cover myself). The correct number for [REDACTED] is: [REDACTED].

Let me know if you need new slips or have any other questions. Sorry for the confusion. Don't worry about [REDACTED], it is currently scheduled for M. Suppress. I was copying an old slip on the [REDACTED] case for your address and accidentally writing in the drug cert number from that case as well.

Talk to you soon.

Bob.

Subject: Comm. v. [REDACTED]

Bob-

I've got a couple questions regarding a summons I received yesterday for the [REDACTED] case. First, it says I need to appear on October 3, 2011 for a pre-trial conference. Obviously that date has passed, and I'm guessing that a trial date was set at that point. Is that correct? If so, what is the correct trial date? Second, when I looked up the drug lab number given [REDACTED], I came up with Mark Daniels, et al. I know it is possible for the et al. to include Robert Harvey, but I wonder if this is the correct as the drugs were submitted in 2010 and the docket number indicates that it is a 2011 case. By looking up Robert Harvey in our database, I did see another drug number with his name on it [REDACTED] = 0.12g cocaine). Would you please verify what the correct drug lab number for this case is? On a side note, Rebecca Pontes received a summons for the [REDACTED] case ([REDACTED] that also listed [REDACTED] as the lab number. She looked up the name and is wondering if [REDACTED] are the correct numbers for that case? Thanks.

-Sonja
